Cover Yourself, אשה;
to the Wailing Wall

A heat blanket:—this scarf fevers my body—: a cooking s’more, bitter milk chocolate melt. Oh holiness, oh great stone graham cracker. In this open-air oven I oven a flavor of watered salt & bile or whatever the word in two backwards dialects translates to something like a near-blind woman chopping carrots for her husband with a rusted knife.
How the blame for wounds on her fingertips is her first possession—the ugly pockets of her skin-suit, a sweated burden of saline & sin she must apologize for in layers. This is no sweet duty in the price of an apple-bite, but a bearded fear of eyewandering & wishes caught in whiskers with crumbs—the way woman means wife before she even becomes one. We are always preparing for a meal.
Cafeteria, or The Sixth Grade Classroom

This paper fortune cookie—cootie catcher—has me all hooty-eyed & orthodontically challenged, like a psychic's favorite sucker—I unfold the bettied page:—origami futurescribble divined in pink-milky pen—: pick a number (twenty-dumb) pick your color (empurpled, or whatever shade a phlebotomist will puncture against) the number again—dance a fingersequence quickstep to floating calligraphy: fates I’ve ouija'd myself: body that will summon the fox—my wild—every twenty-eight days: a game of double-dutch played in this treetrunk—the half-children wait their turn.
